After Paris Agreement, importance of biomass is increasing. For Asian countries that has plenty of biomass, this is a good chance for biomass introduction. Academic discussion on international effective utilization of biomass is wanted. For this purpose, the 5th Asian Conference on Biomass Science is held in Sendai, following Kochi, Tsukuba, Niigata, and Penang. The papers will be published in the special issue of J. Jpn. Inst. Energy after review. Students, researchers, and those who are interested in Asian countries are invited to join.
