

The Japan Institute of Energy
Call for Application - The Foundation for Supporting Students to Make a Presentation at the International Conferences (April, 2020)

Sponsored by HIROSE BRANDS

The Japan Institute of Energy (JIE) founded the donation system for supporting students to make a presentation at the international conference. We recruit the applicant twice a year, April and October. The applicants should be the student and the member of The Japan Institute of Energy, and only one student among the applicants can receive this donation.

1. The objective of this support

A part of expense to make a presentation at the international conference overseas is provided as donation to the student researcher who engages in the energy related fields.

2. Guideline of this support

This support system is applicable to the flight fee, accommodation fee and conference participation fee to make a presentation at the international conference overseas.

3. Content for support

(1) Requirement

The student who fulfills the requirements as follows can apply.

- Should be the member of JIE and 30 years old or younger when making the presentation
